Communication Theories In American Beauty

Communication Theories within American Beauty. The movie American Beauty is about a family who is coming apart at the seams. It uses many of the theories that we have touched on in this class but mostly the Interactional View. This theory is more prevalent than others because the core principles of it focus on the family as a system, rather than individual traits.

family cannot be complete without conflicts between children and parents. Moreover, there is absolutely nothing wrong in that as “right” conflicts help to relieve the tension between the participants and give the opportunity to find a compromise solution without compromising the interests of any family member.

Essay on Interpersonal conflict in film “American Beauty”

"American Beauty" is more than a biting satire on suburban life. This somewhat contrived story is meant to be an allegory. Alan Ball's richly textured screenplay -- which presents a cast of peculiar, almost cartoon-like characters -- feels more like an assemblage of metaphors than a tale of real-life people we can personally relate to.

Looking Closer at "American Beauty"

Genderlect theory sees masculine and feminine communication styles as two different cultural dialects — neither of which is more superior than the other. Genderlect states that these forms of communication are simply different in their focus: masculine discourse is based on building status and independence, while feminine conversation is used as a way to build rapport and connection.
